

National Taiwan University Credit Requirements Sheet for Fall Semester 2023-2024AY

2023.08.01

Dept. Code	Department	Freshman		Sophomore		Junior		Senior		Final year in a 5-year program		Final year in a 6-year program
		Max.	Min.	Max.	Min.	Max.	Min.	Max.	Min.	Max.	Min.	Max.	Min.
	All departments (except those listed below)	25	15	25	15	25	15	25	9
4010	Medicine	33	15	33	15	25	14	25	15	25	15	25	15
4020	Dentistry	33	15	25	15	25	15	25	15	25	15	25	9
4030	Pharmacy	25	15	25	15	25	15	25	15	25	15	25	9
4060	Nursing	25	15	25	15	25	14	25	9
4080 4081	Physical Therapy-for 6 years	25	15	25	15	25	15	25	15	25	12	25	9
4120	Second Degree Bachelor of Science in Nursing	25	15	25	15	25	12
6090	Veterinary Medicine	25	15	25	15	25	15	25	15	25	8
		Master's Program Year 1		Master's Program Year 2 & above		Ph.D. Program
1210	Chinese Literature	13	0	13	0	12	0
1270	Japanese Language and Literature	10	0	10	0
A410	Graduate Institute of Interdisciplinary Legal Studies	26	11	26	0
7220	Accounting	21	0	21	0	21	0
	Other Graduate Schools	20	0	20	0	20	0

Notes: (Note 1 to 3 will be applicable only during Stage 2 in the pre-registration period.)

- For undergraduate students with outstanding academic records in the top 10% of the class, or a GPA above 3.9: no more than 31 credit hours per semester.
- For undergraduate students who minor or read in the Teacher Education Program: no more than 31 credit hours per semester.
- For double-major undergraduate students: no more than 33 credit hours per semester.
- Undergraduate students who can't complete their Bachelor's degree in 4 years should observe the max. credit requirements set for their seniors; for those students with no min. credit requirement, they should at least take one course.
- Elite athlete students or students with disabilities shall select at least one course of any credit.
- Students who have filled out Course Overload Request Form and received approval from advisor, department chairs & the Vice President for Academic Affairs can increase their course load.
- Students who have filled out Course Underload Request Form and received approval from advisor and department chairs can reduce their course load.
- Credit requirements for graduate students do not apply to their theses or dissertations.
- For those students with no min. credit requirement, undergraduate students should take at least one non-credit course, and graduate students can simply register for thesis writing.
- Undergraduate students will be disqualified from the Presidential Award if
 - they take less than 15 credits each semester in their previous 3 years of study in a 4-year program;
 - they take less than 9 credits each semester in their final year of study in a 4-year program;
 - they take less than 15 credits each semester in their previous 4 years of study in a 5-year program;
 - they take less than 9 credits each semester in their final year of study in a 5-year program. The same rules also apply to a 6-year undergraduate program.