The minimum credit requirement for completion of four-year programs at the University may not be less than 128 credits. For non-four-year programs, the minimum credit requirement for graduation shall be adjusted in accordance with the program length. This does not apply, however, to programs that have been approved for reduced minimum credit requirement by the MOE after their submission on a case-by-case basis by the competent colleges to the Academic Affairs Meeting for passage.

Undergraduate students at NTU who have previously graduated in a foreign country, Hong Kong, or Macao from a senior secondary school whose graduation level is academically equivalent to that of the second year of a senior high school in Taiwan of comparable type and academic status shall be required to complete extra 12 credits in addition to their department's minimum credit requirement for graduation.

Physical education credits are not counted towards the minimum credit requirement for graduation.

Starting from Academic Year 2013–14, freshmen in the Department of Medicine shall be required to complete 6 years of study. Students in the original seven-year program shall be required to complete their studies in accordance with applicable regulations in case of an extension of study, leave of absence and reenrollment.

Article 17-1 Students in any of the following situations may apply for an extension of study:

For students who meet any of the criteria in the 2 preceding paragraphs, the extension of study is limited to a maximum of 2 years. The above does not apply, however, in the following situations:

1. If the minimum credit requirement is not met for the completion of credit programs and interdisciplinary specializations, the extension of study is limited to a maximum of one year.
2. For students with double majors who have completed the minimum credit requirement for their original major but not their additional major, and whose two-year extension of study has ended, any additional extension of study is limited to a maximum of one year.
3. For students with disabilities, distinguished athlete students, or students enrolled in Exploratory Learning, the extension of study is limited to a maximum of four years.

record. The recognition of these credits, whether or not they may be counted towards the minimum credit requirement for graduation, and the number of credits to be recognized shall be reviewed by student's home department and submitted to the Office for approval. However, the grades shall not be counted towards the student's semester and final grade averages.

The courses students take in an overseas dual degree program or overseas summer and winter program and the credits and grades they receive for such programs are not required to be recorded in their transcript of academic record unless the recognition of these courses is necessary to meet graduation requirements.

For students studying overseas who have received consent from their home department and are granted approval by the dean of their college and the Vice President for Academic Affairs, the courses taken abroad and their credits shall be handled in accordance with the preceding paragraph.

Students with justifiable cause may apply for a reduced minimum credit requirement or waiver of courses prior to or during their time abroad. Applications shall be submitted to the chair of their home department for approval.

Article 22 All courses shall be graded by course instructors using daily academic performance results, quizzes, midterm examinations, final examinations, and other appropriate evaluation methods. Grades shall be submitted to the online grading system. Once the grades have been submitted and verified, grade submission is complete.

Students shall go to the responsible academic affairs unit or use the online grade inquiry system to review their course grades 10 days after each semester's final examinations.

If a student has questions regarding a grade, they may submit an inquiry to the responsible academic affairs unit. If a student still has questions after it has been confirmed that the grade recorded matches the grade submitted by the course instructor, the student shall inquire of the course instructor directly.

Article 23 Students' grades consist of academic performance and conduct, and are assessed using a letter grading system with the highest grade being A+ and the passing grade being C- (or on a percentage scale, the highest grade is 100 and the passing grade is 60).

Courses of a special nature may be graded with a pass/fail grading system after passage by a departmental curriculum committee and college curriculum committee, and the grades shall be submitted to the Office of Academic Affairs for reference.

Students shall not earn credits for courses in which they received a non-passing or failing grade.

Grading and academic performance assessment shall be handled in accordance with the University's Regulations Governing Grading and Assessment of Academic Performance.

Article 24 The semester and final grade averages of students who were admitted in (or before) Academic Year 2009–10 shall be calculated as follows and rounded to the second decimal place:

2. The total semester credits attempted are the sum of all credits attempted for that semester except for pass/fail courses.
3. The total semester cumulative points are the sum of the cumulative points received for each course.
4. The semester grade average is calculated by dividing the total semester cumulative points earned by the total semester credits.
5. The calculation of semester grade averages shall include courses with a failing grade but shall not include the credits and grades of summer session courses.
6. The final grade average is calculated as the sum of the cumulative points earned during all semesters (including summer sessions) divided by the sum of semester credits attempted during all semesters (including summer sessions).

The semester grade point average (semester GPA) and final grade point average (final GPA) of students enrolled in and after Academic Year 2010–11 shall be calculated as follows and rounded to the second decimal place:

1. The total grade points shall be calculated by multiplying the number of credits of each course by the value of the letter grade received in that course and adding the products together.
2. The total semester credits attempted are the sum of all credits attempted for that semester except for pass/fail courses.

3. The semester GPA shall be calculated by dividing the total grade points earned by the total number of semester credits.
4. The calculation of semester GPA shall include courses with a failing grade but shall not include the credits and grades of summer session courses.
5. The final GPA is the sum of the total grade points divided by the total credits attempted during all semesters (including summer sessions).

However, the total length of the leave of absence shall not exceed that stipulated in the Regulations.

The score for a make-up examination taken after an absence from the final examination due to official duties, illness, childbirth, or the death of a spouse or relative within the second degree of kinship shall be calculated based on the actual results assessed by the course instructor. However, students who are absent from the final examination on approved personal leave (except for pregnancy or child care purposes) and who subsequently pass the make-up examination shall receive a C-.

Article 32 Students found to have cheated on an examination shall be given a grade of X for the examination and subject to further disciplinary action including demerits, dismissal, or expulsion depending on the severity of the violation.

Section IV Excused Absences, Unexcused Absences, and Grade Point Deduction

Article 33 Students who are unable to attend class are required to request a leave in accordance with the Office of Student Affairs' Regulations Governing Student Leave Requests.

Article 34 Missing class without receiving approval for the absence or after the end of the absence shall be counted as an unexcused absence. Each hour of unexcused absence is counted as five hours of excused absences.

Article 35 Students whose number of hours absent for a course surpasses a course total of one-fifth of the number of attendance hours required for that course shall have their course grade lowered by one letter grade; students whose number of hours absent for a course total one-fourth of the number of attendance hours required for that course shall have their course grade lowered by two letter grades. If otherwise stipulated by the course instructor, the instructor's rules shall apply.

Article 50 Students who withdraw or are dismissed from the University shall complete the school-leaving process with the Office. Students who have completed one or more semesters of study at NTU for which they have received grades and whose student status is deemed legitimate after review shall be awarded a certificate of study.

Students who are dismissed for unqualified admissions or transfer status, who are expelled, or students with default tuition, fees, or credit fees payment as regulated after being dismissed shall not be awarded any certificate of study.

Article 50-1 The refund standards for students applying for leave of absence or withdrawal shall be announced prior to the start of each semester.

Students who fail to complete a refund application for a leave of absence or dismissal prior to the deadline shall not receive a refund. However, this stipulation shall not apply to students who are dismissed due to academic performance or students with justifiable cause who receive approval from the Office of Academic Affairs.

Article 51 Students who believe their dismissal or expulsion to be unlawful or inappropriate and in violation of their rights may present the relevant supporting documents and file an appeal in accordance with the University's Student Appeal Regulations, which shall be stipulated separately and submitted to the MOE for approval before implementation.

Before the result of the appeal is confirmed, students under disciplinary action may submit a written application to continue their studies at NTU in accordance with the University's Student Appeal Regulations. However, should the appeal be rejected, any grades received after the appeal is filed and before the result is confirmed shall not be recognized.

Students who are reenrolled after filing an appeal in accordance with the first paragraph but who are unable to be reenrolled immediately due to justifiable cause may apply for a leave of absence during their time away from NTU and prior to their reenrollment. The leave of absence, if approved, will not be counted towards their maximum period of allowed leave.

Section VII Graduation and Degrees

Article 52 Students fulfilling their program length and meeting the following criteria shall be granted a bachelor's degree by NTU:

1. Completion of the required courses and credit requirements;
2. A passing grade in Conduct for all semesters;
3. Completion of an internship program of the required duration.

Students who meet the graduation requirements will be marked as "graduated" when they claim their diplomas. Those who fail to claim their diplomas will be registered as "graduated" at the end of the semester as scheduled in the school calendar.

However, those who have received case approvals to undertake an internship abroad during the winter and summer vacations will be regarded as not having fulfilled the graduation requirements during the internship, and will be marked as graduated no later than the beginning of the following semester.

Students with justifiable cause, with the consent of both the chair of their home department and the Vice President for Academic Affairs, may be handled in accordance with the preceding paragraph.

Article 53 Students with outstanding grades who have yet to exhaust the stipulated program length but meet the criteria set forth in the preceding article may graduate one semester or one academic year early after receiving approval from the chair of their home department, the dean of the college, and the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Students who meet the criteria set forth in the preceding paragraph and apply for early graduation shall submit their application before December 25 in the fall semester or May 25 in the spring semester.

Students who wish to graduate early in order to participate in master's degree program admissions through screening and test shall submit an application within a week of the start of the semester in which they sign up for the screening and test.

Students applying for early graduation who are not expected to meet the criteria set forth in the first paragraph of the preceding article by the end of the semester in which they plan to graduate shall not be granted early graduation.

Article 53-1 Graduating students with outstanding grades may apply for a direct-entry doctoral degree program in accordance with NTU Regulations Governing Direct-Entry Doctoral Degree Programs; relevant regulations shall be stipulated separately.

Section VIII Miscellaneous

Article 53-2 For students in degree programs, administrative matters related to student status, change of major, minor and double major studies, and other relevant matters shall be subject to the provisions related to students' home departments in this Chapter mutatis mutandis.

Chapter IV Master's and Doctoral Degree Programs

Section I Admissions

Article 65 Applicants who graduated with a bachelor's or equivalent academic degree from a domestic university or college recognized and authorized by the MOE, or who graduated from a foreign university or college recognized by the MOE, may be admitted to an NTU master's degree program if they have passed an NTU master's degree program admissions examination or admissions through screening and test.

Students enrolled in a master's degree program or an in-service master's degree program at NTU who meet the criteria set forth in the preceding paragraph may apply to register one semester in advance.

Article 66 Applicants who have earned a master's or equivalent academic degree from a domestic university or college recognized and authorized by the MOE, or who graduated from a foreign university or college recognized by the MOE, may be admitted to an NTU doctoral degree program if they have passed an NTU doctoral degree program admissions examination or admissions through screening and test.

Students enrolled in a doctoral degree program at NTU who meet the criteria set forth in the preceding paragraph may apply to register one semester in advance.

Article 66-1 A student who has been admitted as a freshman to multiple departments/graduate institutes/degree programs ("academic programs") within the same school system in the same academic year shall only choose one academic program to enroll for study; otherwise their admission will be canceled.

Article 67 Students who are graduating with a bachelor's degree or who are studying in a master's degree program may apply for a direct-entry doctoral degree program if deemed eligible in accordance with NTU Regulations Governing Direct-Entry Doctoral Degree Programs; relevant regulations shall be stipulated separately.

Section II Registration and Course Selection

Article 68 The number of credits required per semester for graduate students is determined by each academic program.

Article 69 The thesis advisor position shall be assumed by a full-time NTU assistant professor or above who is eligible to serve as a master's or doctoral degree examination committee member as stipulated in the Degree Conferral Act. If necessary, with the consent of the head of an advisee's academic program, an adjunct assistant professor or above may co-supervise an advisee with full-time faculty members of the academic program.

Where a full-time instructor is allowed to temporarily continue their appointment while their dismissal, non-renewal of appointment, or suspension imposed as a disciplinary measure is under review, they may supervise the advisees they have been supervising, but they shall not accept new applications from students requesting them to act as thesis advisors.

Article 70 (Revoked)

Article 71 Inter-university course selection for graduate students shall be handled in accordance with the NATIONAL TAIWAN UNIVERSITY Regulations Governing the Implementation of Inter-University Course Selection.

Section III Program Length, Credits, Grades, Dismissals, and Leaves of Absence

Article 72 The length of a master's degree program ranges from 1 to 4 years, while that of a doctoral degree program ranges from 2 to 7 years. However, graduate students who are enrolled in an in-service graduate degree program or a program with a minimum credit requirement of 60 or more credits for graduation may apply for an extension of study of up to 2 years if they are unable to complete the required courses or finish their thesis within the stipulated program length.

The provision set forth in the preceding paragraph also applies to students in direct-entry doctoral degree programs from the time they transfer into the program.

Students who are pregnant, in labor, or raising one or more children aged three or younger may request an extension of study, which shall be submitted for approval on a case-by-case basis.

Students who have been issued a Disability ID card or who have been identified by a municipality-, county-, or city-level Special Education

Students Diagnosis and Placement Counseling Committee as exceptional students that require academic placement may apply for an additional extension of study of up to two years.

Article 73 Master's students are required to complete at least 24 credits; doctoral students are required to complete at least 18 credits; and students in a direct-entry doctoral degree program are required to complete at least 30 credits (including the credits received for the master's degree program).

Theses and dissertations may not be counted towards the minimum credit requirements for graduation.

Article 74 Grading in graduate programs shall be governed by the same rubrics as those used in the undergraduate programs of the same department, but with the passing grade being B-. Students may not take a make-up examination after failing a course and shall be required to make-up all required courses that they have failed.

For graduate students taking undergraduate courses, the grades earned shall be counted towards the semester and final grade averages. Credits shall be awarded to those with a passing grade. However, each academic program shall independently determine whether or not the awarded credits will count towards the minimum credit requirements for graduation.

Final grade averages for graduate students shall be calculated as follows and rounded to the second decimal place:

1. For students enrolled in (or before) Academic Year 2009–10 and who graduated in (or before) Academic Year 2013–14, the final grade average shall be calculated as the sum of the cumulative points for all the courses taken during all semesters (including summer sessions) divided by the total semester credits attempted during all semesters (including summer sessions). The final grade average shall be determined by calculating the sum of the grade received for the thesis/dissertation defense and the grade average, with each accounting for 50% of the final grade average.
2. For students enrolled in Academic Year 2010–11 and who graduated in (or before) Academic Year 2013–14, the academic GPA shall be calculated as the sum of the grade points for all courses taken during all semesters (including summer sessions) divided by the total semester credits attempted during all semesters (including summer sessions). The final GPA shall be determined by calculating the sum of the grade received for the thesis/dissertation defense and the academic GPA, with each accounting for 50%.
3. For students graduating in or after Academic Year 2014–15, the final GPA shall be calculated as the sum of the grade points for all courses taken during all semesters (including summer sessions) divided by the total semester credits attempted during all semesters (including summer sessions). Thesis/dissertation defense shall be letter-graded; the grade shall appear in the student's transcript of academic record, but will not be counted towards the final GPA.

Article 75 Graduate students in any of the following situations shall be dismissed from the University:

1. Failure to complete the required courses and minimum credit requirements or to pass the thesis/dissertation defense by the specified time, which is 4 years for master's degree programs and 7 years for doctoral degree programs;

2. For master's degree candidates, failure to pass the qualifying examination required in their master's degree program;
3. For doctoral students, failing to finish the qualifying examination for doctoral degree candidates within the time limit set up by their program or failing it twice;
4. Failing thesis/dissertation defense and being ineligible to retake the defense examination or failing the make-up examination;
5. Meeting the conditions for dismissal due to poor academic performance as per the standards stipulated by their program and previously submitted to NTU for reference;
6. A failing grade in Conduct;
7. Failure to complete registration or re-enroll by the deadline after the end of their leave of absence;
8. Deemed ineligible for admission after review.

Subparagraphs 3 and 4 of the preceding paragraph do not apply to students in a direct-entry doctoral degree program who fail their doctoral qualifying examination or dissertation defense, but who are still eligible to transfer to the corresponding master's program or be conferred a master's degree.

Article 75-1 Graduate students applying for a leave of absence are required to submit their application prior to the final examinations.

First year graduate students seeking to apply for a leave of absence in their first semester may not do so until their registration is complete.

Article 76 Thesis/dissertation defenses shall be held in accordance with NTU Rules Governing Thesis/Dissertation Defense, which shall be stipulated separately and submitted to the MOE for reference.

Article 77 Credit transfers for graduate students shall be handled in accordance with the University's Regulations Governing Students' Credit Transfer.

Article 78 Starting from Academic Year 2012–13, graduate students who are simultaneously taking graduate courses in other academic programs of NTU or at Academia Sinica or courses in NTU's Credit Program in Continuing Education may submit the courses, credits and grades received to their home academic program to review whether or not the credits received may be counted towards the minimum credit requirement for graduation, which shall then be submitted to the Office for approval. The credits and grades of the approved courses shall be recorded in the student's transcript of academic record. However, the grades will not be counted towards the student's semester or final GPA.

Article 78-1 Starting from Academic Year 2012–13, graduate students approved by NTU for overseas studies shall complete at least 2 courses or 6 credits of coursework during their semester abroad and submit an official transcript of the grades for all courses taken abroad to be recorded on their transcript of academic record. The recognition of these credits, whether or not they may be counted towards the minimum credit requirement for graduation, and the number of credits to be recognized shall be reviewed by student's home academic program and submitted to the Office for approval. However, the grades shall not be counted towards the semester or final GPA.

The courses students take in an overseas dual degree program or overseas summer program and the credits and grades they receive for such programs are not required to be recorded in their transcript of academic record unless such course credits are required for graduation.

Courses taken abroad by graduate students studying overseas who have received consent from their home academic program and granted approval by the dean of their college and the Vice President for Academic Affairs and the credits they are awarded for such courses may be handled in accordance with the preceding paragraph.

Graduate students with justifiable cause may apply for a reduced minimum credit requirement or waiver of courses prior to or during their time abroad. Applications shall be submitted to the head of their home department for approval.

The transcript of academic record of graduate students who fail to submit a transcript within two months of returning from overseas studies or who have not completed the minimum credit requirement shall contain the following comment: The student did not complete enough courses at the host university to satisfy NTU's course requirements for exchange students. This stipulation shall not apply to students with justifiable cause who have received approval from the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Article 78-2 Credits received from approved credit transfers and recognized courses may not total more than one-half of the minimum credit requirement for graduation from a graduate program. This stipulation shall not apply to graduate students who have received approval from the Vice President for Academic Affairs on a case-by-case basis.

Section IV Change of Major to Different Departments, Graduate Institutes, Divisions, or Degree Programs; and Double Majors

Article 79 Graduate students with justifiable cause who have completed more than one year of study may apply for a one-time-only transfer to a different program (or group) after receiving approval from the heads of both academic programs concerned or from the Vice President for Academic Affairs on a case-by-case basis.

Article 79-1 Graduate students may apply for a double major. Double major studies shall be handled in accordance with the University's Regulations Governing Students Taking Double Majors.

Section V Graduation and Degrees

Article 80 Graduate students are required to meet the following criteria to graduate:

1. Completion of the required courses and credit requirements within the stipulated program duration;
2. Passage of examinations in accordance with NTU Rules Governing Thesis/Dissertation Defense.
3. A passing grade in Conduct in every semester.

Graduate students enrolled in the Teacher Education Program who have yet to complete the necessary requirements for it may be granted eligibility to graduate in the semester of program completion or during the semester in which they apply to retain or give up their enrollment status in the program if they meet the criteria in the preceding paragraph and have not reached their maximum program length.

Students who meet the graduation requirements should submit the thesis (including paper and electronic forms) within the time limit and be marked as "graduated" when claiming the diploma. Those who fail to claim their diplomas will be registered as "graduated" by the start of the next semester as scheduled in the school calendar.

Article 81 Master's students who meet the criteria stipulated in the preceding article shall be awarded a master's diploma by NTU.

Doctoral students who meet the criteria in the preceding article shall be awarded a doctoral diploma by NTU.

Students in a direct-entry doctoral degree program who pass their doctoral qualifying examination but fail their dissertation defense may be awarded a master's degree if the degree examination committee determines that the dissertation meets the standards for a master's degree.

Article 82 Diplomas for graduate degrees shall be awarded in January for fall semester graduation and in June for spring semester graduation. The diplomas of graduate students who have already completed the required courses and credit requirements and who are not taking additional courses beyond the thesis/dissertation in the semester of their thesis/dissertation defense shall be awarded in the month they pass their defense.

Section VI Miscellaneous

Article 83 The relevant provisions in Section II shall apply to this Section unless otherwise specified.

Chapter V Appendix

Article 84 The full name and date of birth recorded in the NTU student status data should match those recorded on the student's national identification card. Any discrepancies between a student's identification document submitted for enrollment and their national identification card should be corrected immediately.

Article 85 In the event of a discrepancy or inconsistency in student records regarding college, department, graduate institute, years of study, academic performance, registration information, and records of leaves of absence, reenrollments, changes of major, dismissal, or transfers to different graduate institutes or universities, the information recorded in the original student enrollment and performance records kept by the Office of Academic Affairs shall prevail.

Article 86 Current students and graduate (and non-graduate) alumni who wish to request changes to their name or date of birth shall attach a household registry transcription or household certificate (with detailed information included) with their application and submit the documents to the Office of Academic Affairs for reference.

Article 87 Student examination papers shall be retained for one year. However, the period of retention shall be extended as circumstances dictate, such as when the corresponding examination is involved in a grade appeal. Grades submitted by instructors to the Office of Academic Affairs shall be retained permanently.

Article 88 Students who commit any of the following forms of misconduct shall be subject to penalties according to the severity of the violation:

1. Recruiting another person, via advertising, verbal request, or broadcasting or by other means, to ghostwrite (or produce and present as done by the student) a thesis or dissertation, work(s), certificate of achievement, written report, technical report, or professional practice report.
2. Ghostwriting (or producing and presenting as done by the student) for, or providing plagiarized materials through oral dictation, images, or other fraudulent measures to be incorporated into, a thesis or dissertation, work(s), certificate of achievement, written report, technical report, or professional practice report.

Article 88-1 A student's conferred degree shall be revoked with the revocation of the diploma announced under any of the following circumstances:

Where the student's admissions qualifications or study records are deemed false or fraudulent;

Where academic misconduct, such as forgery, falsification, plagiarism, and ghostwriting, is found in the student's thesis or dissertation, work(s), certificate(s) of achievement, written report(s), technical report(s), or professional practice report(s).

Article 89 The related application procedures mentioned in the Regulations shall be stipulated in detail separately.

Article 90 The Chinese and English naming of academic degrees shall conform to international conventions and trends, make reference to the Reference Manual for Academic Degree Nomenclature in Chinese and English promulgated by the MOE, and reflect the characteristics, content and nature of the curriculum of the academic programs, and the field of academic study or professional practice involved.

Regulations related to Chinese and English academic degree names and remarks on degree diplomas shall be presented to the responsible academic program meeting and college affairs meeting for passage, then submitted to the Academic Affairs Meeting for passage and implementation.

Article 91 Matters not addressed herein shall be subject to the University Act, the Enforcement Rules of the University Act, the Degree Conferral Act, and other related academic laws and regulations and NTU regulations.

Article 92 The Regulations shall be passed by the Academic Affairs Meeting, reported to the University Council, implemented on the date of promulgation, and then submitted to the MOE for reference.
